

project involvement

- research
- industrial design
- engineering
- prototyping

innovations

for the way we work • live • play

Evenflo Ellipsa Stroller

A recent study uncovered that most new mothers find it difficult to look stylish while on the go with baby. In response, Evenflo and Brooks Stevens Design developed Ellipsa - a high style stroller that combines function and fashion, giving parents the power to look good while toting their tot.

Innovative features, including one-handed steering, one-handed trigger activated fold, infinite one-handed seat recline, a removable snack tray, smooth running wheels, a pivoting canopy for sun and wind protection and an oversized storage basket, combined with high fashion design make this stroller the ultimate accessory and travel partner.

brooks stevens  design

262.376.9180
www.brooksstevens.com

